Results Reveal Genesis Account of Creation More Scientific Than Darwinism

Anti-evolution organization uses scientific criteria established by evolutionists to assess Biblical account of creation and evolution.

MINNEAPOLIS, MN, February 11, 2009 – Keeping within scientific standards most commonly used by evolutionists, Who Is Your Creator has shown that the Genesis Account of Creation has more empirical evidence substantiating it than Darwinism, i.e. common descent.

While most people who believe in evolution are simply unaware of the lack of empirical evidence supporting it, many willfully turn a blind eye to current scientific research. In fact, the presupposition that evolution is true has now been shown to be an outright menace to scientific research, discovery, and progress.

State by state, evolutionists are persuading judges to rule against the freedom of teachers to discuss any “strengths or weaknesses” of evolution, but a new Zogby poll reported that 78% of likely voters and 84% of college graduates actually favor giving teachers the freedom to expose students to contradictory evidence.

Due to the biased media coverage promoting ‘Darwin Day,’ Who Is Your Creator has stepped up its attack on the fabrications and misrepresentations that are commonly associated with the Theory of Evolution. To help with deciphering what is true and what is false, Who Is Your Creator plans to produce a DVD that will be primarily geared towards students, parents, and churches.

“Because of the pro-evolution indoctrination in public schools and colleges, it’s not good enough for students to know that the evidence supporting the Theory of Evolution is false. They also must be able to articulate its weaknesses and counter the false information when teachers and professors contradict empirical evidence,” states Who Is Your Creator founder, Julie Haberle.
